

Porto by Pier Luigi Frighetto

IT Funzionale, pratica, mobile, Porto è una cucina modulare composta da vari elementi combinabili: tavolo, carello, lavello, induzione, gruppo lavello+induzione, Teppanyaki e griglia. Progettata nel dettaglio per soddisfare le esigenze legate all'outdoor, Porto presenta piani curvati in legno Iroko, struttura tubolare in acciaio Inox, disponibile anche nelle finiture Espresso e Seta, e caratteristiche tecniche impeccabili. Tutte le superfici di lavoro/cottura sono in acciaio Inox, come il lavello, corredato da rubinetto reclinabile. Ad alimentazione elettrica sono i moduli a induzione, con due zone di cottura, e il Teppanyaki, con piastra spessa 5mm, dalle massime prestazioni termiche. Medesima piastra, con tre zone di cottura, alimentate però a gas, ha la griglia.

EN Functional, practical and mobile, the Porto modular kitchen has various combining elements: table, serving trolley, sink, induction hob, sink + induction hob, Teppanyaki and grill. Precisely designed to meet outdoor living requirements, Porto has curved Iroko wood tops, a stainless steel tube frame, also available in Espresso and Seta finishes, and impeccable technical performance. All work/cooking surfaces are in stainless steel, as is the sink with reclining tap. The induction hobs with dual cooking zones and 5 mm Teppanyaki plate offer powerful heat performance, running on electricity. The gas-powered grill has the same plate with three cooking zones.

Porto cucina modulare, struttura in finitura 42 Seta, piano e sottopiano in legno Iroko. / Porto modular kitchen, structure in 42 Seta finish, top and lower shelf in Iroko wood.
